

Joint degree UCL-FUNDP-Bocconi

Particular conditions related to the exam regulations (including credit attribution and recognition), deliberation and exam jury

The program management committee will inform the students of the study regulations applicable to this program.

For issues not explicitly regulated by the management committee or by the present agreement, the rules of the DES-ESS program at Bocconi will be applicable to all first year students of the present program and the rules of the “Master en sciences économiques, orientation générale à finalité approfondie” jointly organised by UCL and FUNDP will be applicable to second year students.

Mark conversion

The conversion of the examinations marks will be done according to the following conversion table. The conversion table can be modified according to the changes in the grading system and in the distribution. The conversion could be the object of further discussion between the Partners and can be reviewed by each partner with notice.

This correspondence table will be communicated to all students enrolled.

The thesis

All students will complete only one Master thesis that will be supervised by professors of both institutions.

Defence of the thesis

The thesis will be presented by all Joint Degree Students under the supervision of both a Bocconi and a UCL/FUNDP faculty member and defended at UCL/FUNDP.

Upon provision of official documents issued by UCL/FUNDP inclusive of oral defence final grade (i.e. transcript of record) Bocconi will recognize such dissertation as a regular academic activity within its study plan (worth 20 ECTS) and will convert it according to a specific table to be agreed upon by the Parties.

Finally, the joint degree will be conferred to all Joint Degree graduates.
