

JOB OFFERING

Experienced Data Mining Consultant

Date of offering: Feb. 2011
Job Start date: as soon as possible

Type of Contract: "à durée indéterminée" "onbepaalde duur"

Company

VADIS Consulting S.A. (www.vadis.com) is a young company that focuses on Business Intelligence, CRM, and Data Analysis. VADIS is a consulting company, offering full project and solution building for its clients mainly in the sector of Bank-Insurance, Telco and Retail. The offering of VADIS focuses on linking marketing actions with data by designing data models, and exploiting data through predictive models, segmentation (clustering), reporting, graph analysis, etc. VADIS aims at becoming a leader in analytical decision systems by providing best services in this area as well as building the most exiting and intelligent pieces of software.

Job Description

VADIS searches for experienced Data Mining Consultants that could manage projects using advanced analytics and take full responsibility in project achievement. This position will involve

- Translating business problem and potential actions into a decision process based on predictive modelling, KPI's, and data model
- Develop data processes & industry specific templates in accordance with our procedures, and standards in order to build data ready for analytics
- Build predictive models and segmentation for marketing applications in customer retention, acquisition, and growth or in Fraud detection. Lead a team on junior consultant in doing this as well.
- Lead projects; manage their budget and timelines, and present results in a business environment.
- Lead the implementation of a solution within VADIS or within the client' site to productize processes using model predictions
- Contributing to the creation and maintenance of a working methodology

The ideal candidate will have the following skills:

- 2 to 4 years' extensive experience in predictive modelling and segmentation, including data preparation
- Advanced degree in data analysis, statistics, data mining or related field
- Strong talents in both quantitative and qualitative assessments, analytical and conceptual thinker
- Business oriented mind in order to understand the concerns of business users and being able to establish a true communication with them when presenting results;
- Team player with positive and ownership attitude
- Experience in project management
- Multi-lingual FR/NL/EN

Benefits

The benefits will be related to the experience and skills of the candidate and will be in line with best practises in the area.

Contact

If you are interested, please send your CV to:
e-amil : anne@vadis.com

Direction HR
VADIS Consulting SA
Allée de la recherche 65
1070 Bruxelles
Voice: + 32 2 555 94 21
www.vadis.com

