SPED1PM - Information

Learning outcomes

---

L'année préparatoire fournit à certaines catégories d'étudiants (cfr "admission à la formation") le complément qui prépare les enseignements du Master en Sciences de la Population et du Développement. Ce complément poursuit principalement deux objectifs : assurer ou renforcer la formation à la démarche scientifique, aux aspects concrets du travail universitaire (recherche et critique de sources, exercice de l'analyse et du travail de synthèse, travail en groupe à tâches, rédaction de rapports) et aux instruments nécessaires pour les études en Master (analyse statistique, anglais, logiciels informatiques de base, etc.) ; assurer ou consolider la formation dans les disciplines de base pertinentes du Master en Sciences de la Population et du Développement.

Evaluation

Ce sont les jurys de premier cycle qui délibéreront de la réussite en fin d'année.

Possible trainings at the end of the programme

---

La réussite de l'année préparatoire est la condition suffisante et nécessaire à l'accès au Master en Sciences de la Population et du Développement pour les passerelles de catégorie 1 et pour certains étudiants de passerelle de catégorie 2. Elle ne donne pas lieu à la délivrance d'un diplôme.
