Prerequisites :

Individually tailored access :Entry to all Masters (with the exception of Advanced Masters) can be gained through the special procedure for accrediting prior learning and experience known as VAE (validation des acquis de l'expérience).

Accessible to adults

Various features in the way the programme is organized provide greater flexibility for mature students :

- being awarded this Advanced Master enables candidates to gain a certain number of credits which can be used in the Academy's teacher training programmes
- the classes are only held on certain days, in Louvain-la-Neuve or Namur
- there is a limit on the number of participants to ensure the excellence of the training

Teaching method

Originality

- Combination of theory/ practice

This programme encourages active teaching, closely linked with developing candidates' teaching practice. The contact hours of teaching (classes, seminars), the supervision time for special projects, teaching practice, assessment of the teaching practice, presentation of the results of the assessment to ensure real professional development as well as thorough assessment, informed by research : all of these are closely linked. There is a combination of three main elements : theory and practice, cross-disciplinary and disciplinary skills, research and teaching.

- Links with research

Collaboration between partners involved in the development of training and research in university teaching, particularly on the following themes :

- + analysis of effects of teaching methods on the process of learning, transfer of knowledge and engagement in higher education
- + learning, motivation and identity in mature students
- + teaching methods at university
- + use of e-learning
- + assessment of what students have gained from university education
- + comparative approach to educational policies and teaching methods in higher education

- Using technology

There is special emphasis on using technology in teaching and learning as these are powerful catalysts in education.

There is active participation in the programme from institutional players who, for many years, have worked together to develop training in university teaching and educational research : at UCL, the UNESCO Chair in university teaching, the Institut of University Teaching and Multimedia (Institut de pédagogie universitaire et des Multimédias - IPM) and the FOPA; at the Facultés universitaires Notre-Dame de la Paix in Namur , the University Teaching Service of the Department of Education and Technology.

Support teams for the Advanced Master

A team (made up of a visiting lecturer, an adviser from one of the university teaching centres if the candidate comes from a university or an adviser from a college of higher education if the candidate comes from this sector) will supervise students' progress and their final review assignment.

In addition, a review seminar is attended by all students on the programme and to provide support for the production of the final review assignment, a genuine teaching portfolio which should be able to show evidence of critical distance based on theoretical reasoning relating to students' own teaching.

Evaluation

The evaluation methods comply with the regulations concerning studies and exams. More detailed explanation of the modalities specific to each learning unit are available on their description sheets under the heading "Learning outcomes evaluation method".

The assessment of the Advanced Master is done through the production of the final review assignment, in which students show evidence of their ability to analyze and assess their professional practices and make use of the appropriate theoretical frameworks. There is a review seminar to give students help and support for the final review assignment.

Satisfactory completion of the Advanced Master is conditional on the defence of the final review assignment (written report to be submitted).

The assignment is defended orally before a panel of examiners made up of the support team, lecturers from the programme as well as an outside examiner who is a specialist in the relevant subject. A seminar is held to bring the work of participants to a wider university audience.

Mobility and/or Internationalisation outlook

In the context of the diploma for university teaching, the academic year 2007-2008 saw confirmation to continue the international agreements. These enabled students to do a month's placement in one of seven partner universities under the terms of a joint programme between the European Union and Canada (2002-2005).

Possible trainings at the end of the programme

This Advanced Master is a programme of 60 credits organized by the Louvain Academy.

The programme is open to holders of a second cycle university degree who wish to develop their skills and knowledge in university level teaching.

This programme may also form additional training for holders of the teaching certificate for higher education (certificat d'aptitude pédagogique approprié à l'enseignement supérieur - CAPAES).
