HIST2M - Introduction

Introduction

Introduction

This Master's degree enables you to

- learn advanced methodological and critical techniques for finding and using information ;
- to apply them to a specific period (Antiquity, Middle Ages, modern era, contemporary period) or to a field in history, with the aim of producing a personal review of a particular topic (Master's dissertation) ;
- to develop skills in gathering information, critical analysis and application.

Your profile

You

- have a Bachelor's degree in History and you have demonstrated your liking for the rigorous and critical work of a historian ;
- wish to develop your ability to undertake a piece of original research and defend the results ;
- are looking for a training course that will give you the opportunity to specialise in your chosen areas ;
- seek to enhance your profile with professional skills and to benefit from the opportunity to put them to the test in the field.

Your future job

A historian develops reasoning, analysis, critical skills, a sense of proportion and the ability to assemble documentary information: these are all qualities which are valued in various different fields of employment. Teaching, research, communication and areas related to the world of books, heritage promotion, management and document conservation are obvious openings.

Other sectors may also be accessible : the private sector (business, banks or insurance companies for example), tourism, government service and the sociocultural and voluntary worlds.

Your programme

The Master's degree offers you

- demanding methodological training applied to your research topic ;
- introduction to an interdisciplinary approach ;
- a varied programme, in which you can combine option courses and focuses according to your areas of interest and the professional profile you wish to cultivate ;
- the possibility of a study visit abroad and/or a work placement in a professional environment.

HIST2M - Teaching profile

Learning outcomes

Students on the Master [120] History prepare themselves to, in the course of their socio-professional life, demonstrate the ability to shed light upon the complexities of the history of people and societies which have preceded us and the connections linking them to our present.

At the end of the course, the future historians will have deepened their knowledge and awareness of the themes relating to different historical fields and periods, by situating them within the principal trends in current research. Students will have acquired expert knowledge of research methods in historical studies: able to construct a relevant research problem, gather documentation, analyse and criticise the data collected, reach their own conclusions and communicate the results obtained to different audiences and in different ways. Open to interdisciplinary studies, students will also be capable of employing concepts and methods from social studies in particular in the course of their research. The future historians are aware of the issues, debates and even exploitation to which the past is subject, and can contribute, using a scientific approach, to a better understanding of the present. Using their ability to communicate their knowledge and critical investigation methods, the future historians can enrich societal debates.

On successful completion of this programme, each student is able to :

- 1. Achieve expert and specialised knowledge and awareness of the themes relating to different historical fields and periods, by situating them within the principal trends in current research.
- 2. Attain expert knowledge of and employ research methods in historical studies: develop and carry out research work, implement a methodological and critical approach in the finding and implementation of data, in order to look deeper into a specific historical issue, reaching their own balanced and reasoned conclusions.

- 2.1. Formulate a relevant research question, adapt and define it over the course of their research by refining their working hypotheses.
- 2.2. Consolidate the documents (sources and bibliography), by questioning the validity and relevance of the sources as regards the research problem being studied.
- 2.3. Provide a specific question (critical assessment of historiography).
- 2.4. Analyse and assess documentation critically by taking into account the peculiarities of different types of sources.
- 2.5. Organise and handle data by using appropriate IT, locating them in their historical context and interpreting them.
- 2.6. Employ appropriate methods and models, in particular from social sciences, and apply them to their research.
- 2.7. Develop their own balanced conclusions on the basis of a number of different types of important sources.
- 2.8. Communicate, to specialists and/or a wide audience, the results of their research (orally and/or in writing, in an audio-visual or digital form).
- 2.9. Demonstrate the rigour, precision and critical mind-set which are essential to all work at university level and at each of its stages.

3. Take a reflexive, scientific and methodologically-based look at the history of their discipline (historiography) and their own practices as historians, particularly in employing concepts and methods from other fields.

4. Develop and employ, on the basis of their historical disciplinary and methodological skills, a series of transferable skills in different fields of social and professional life:

- Carry out a documentary study and report its conclusions
- Communicate, discuss and collaborate
- Act as independent and responsible actors and carry out continuing development.

- 4.1. Collect documentation on a given theme, and structure, critically analyse and summarize different types of data.
- 4.2. Communicate, orally and in writing, on complex subjects relating to history and other areas (information, data, reflections and conclusions as well as the underlying knowledge and principles) in an accurate, structured and reasoned fashion by adapting their presentation (content and form) to the target audience and aims being pursued.
- 4.3. Effectively integrate into and collaborate with a team and different actors in networks.
- 4.4. Independently manage their work: define their priorities, anticipate and plan all activities for their assignments on time, demonstrate rigour and structuring in their work.
- 4.5. Engage in, decide upon and act in respect of work and third parties in an independent and responsible manner in line with the relevant framework.
- 4.6. Cast a critical eye over their own knowledge and competencies and independently put in place methods and opportunities to improve them as part of system of continuing development which is indispensable in order to progress in a positive way in their social and professional environment.

5. Progress in professional practice in accordance with a grounded academic approach (from a theoretical and methodological point of view) anchored in the history of humans and societies preceding us and characterised by a critical distance.

6. Their expert knowledge in and ability to employ concepts and methods from social sciences, and openness to different disciplines will allow them to become part of a wider scientific community and take part in discussions with specialists from other disciplines.

7. In a world where public debates and societal issues frequently cite the past, students will shed light on the present and contribute to debates as historical experts, both in terms of knowledge and critical methodology.

8. If the research focus course is chosen: analyse and provide a reflective and critical look on the sections of research “in progress” around case studies and bearing upon different fields and periods of history (these case studies fall within the course instructors’ fields of expertise).

8.1 Look deeper into certain aspects of the case studies presented, by means of reading materials which will encourage reflection and discussion during sessions.

8.2 Identify and analyse the principles, methods and challenges which underlie the main research trends in the past and now.

8.3 Assess the relevance of the material employed by the author of a scientific work, the approach adopted and the conclusions presented.

8.4 Compare various scientific output dealing with the same theme, demonstrating and creating a dialogue between the different questions, sources, methods and conclusions.

9. If the didactic elective is chosen: call upon the competencies necessary to begin teaching effectively in upper secondary education, in history, and be able to progress there.

9.1 To take part in education, in partnership with different parties.

9.2 Teach in authentic and varied situations.

9.3 Reflect upon and progress through the usual stages of continuing development.

For further information, please go to Teacher Training Certificate \(upper secondary education\) - History.

10. If the professional focus course “History and Archives” is chosen: independently manage an archive, collect, classify, inventory the stock and implement a conservation and evaluation policy for the same.

10.1 Progress to finding, assessing, collecting, classifying and conducting an inventory of the stock in the archive coming from public or private bodies, both from the Ancien Régime and the contemporary era.

10.2 Attain expert theoretical knowledge in methods of conservation which relate to traditional methods or those offered by new information and communication technologies and apply them to real cases.

10.3 Become expert in different methods for assessing archive heritage.

10.4 Acquire knowledge and experience of the professional arena and recent developments in the field, in particular through completing internships and taking part in study days.

11. If the professional focus course “Communication of Historical Knowledge” is chosen: communicate historical knowledge to a wide audience, on the basis of expert theoretical and methodological knowledge of communication challenges in history and the methods and tools for communication, with a view to responding to the social demand for history.

11.1 Attain expert theoretical and methodological knowledge relating to the analysis and resolution of problems in communicating historical knowledge; students will be able to:

- define and organise the elements of a communication project,
- gather documentation,
- identify the connections between theories and audiences,
- argue on the basis of those connections,
- make decisions with a view to defining and fixing the aim to be attained and the cultural output to be made.

11.2 Produce an historical knowledge communication linked to the challenges and realities of public history, that is to say history for a wider audience.

11.3 Become expert in the methods and tools for communicating historical knowledge with a view to attaining a result.

11.4 Carry out an historical knowledge communication using communication methods such as communicative writing, oral and audio-visual communication or gestures, information and communication technologies, etc..

11.5. Converse in a respectful and constructive manner with different parties (both from a socio-cultural point of view, as well as from the starting point of their role, the fields in which they practice and the domains where they possess disciplinary expertise) by demonstrating an ability to listen, an open-mindedness, empathy, distance and assertiveness.

Programme structure

The programme is made up of :

- core courses (75 credits), made up of :
 - one dissertation and accompanying seminar (30 credits);
 - a seminar (10 credits)
 - courses on research techniques (10 credits);
 - courses on methodological approaches in research and communication (10 credits);
 - case studies in the field "gouvernance et sociétés" (15 credits);
- one focus (30 credits);
- and one option or optional course (15 credits).

For a programme-type, and regardless of the focus, options/or elective courses selected, this master will carry a minimum of 120 credits divided over two annual units, corresponding to 60 credits each.

⊗ Optional courses (maximum 5 credits)

Courses must be chosen where possible among those not yet taken in the masters in History or from those of another masters at UCL or another university with the agreement of the dissertation supervisor and the examination board secretary. If certain courses are also available in the core subjects or in an option course in this masters, these courses may not exceed 5 credits. No courses may be taken from the teaching focus or the professional focuses.

TEACHING FOCUS [30.0]

IMPORTANT NOTE: In accordance with article 138 para. 4 of the decree of 7 November 2013 concerning higher education and the academic organisation of studies, teaching practice placements will not be assessed in the September session. Students are required to make every effort to successfully complete the teaching practice in the June session, subject to having to retake the year.

The teaching focus is concerned with preparation for teaching at the higher levels of secondary education.

The programme is designed to develop the following skills :

- design, planning and assessment of practice ;
- ability to assess practices and their context ;
- understanding of the educational institution, its setting and players.

Three kinds of activities are involved :

- teaching practice at the higher levels of secondary education (60 hours)
- seminars ;
- lectures.

They are divided into two categories:

- teaching practice, multidisciplinary courses and seminars, common to all subjects. They have the code LAGRE (13 credits);
- subject-based teaching practice, courses and seminars (17 credits).

The teaching focus of the 120 credit Master's degree includes the training which leads to the qualification for teaching in secondary education (Agrégation de l'enseignement secondaire supérieur – AESS) (300 hours - 30 credits), in accordance with the Decrees of 8 February 2001 and that of 17 December 2003 (concerning the basis of neutrality) relating to the initial training of teachers at the higher levels of secondary education in the French Community in Belgium.

These 30 credits also make up the AESS programme in Ancient Languages and Literatures: Classics which can be taken after a 60 credit or a 120 credit Master's degree.

In practical terms, successful completion of the Master's degree with the teaching focus leads also to the award of professional status as a secondary education teacher. Assessment of the skills in the AESS programme is spread over the 2 blocks of the Master's degree.

Students may if they wish combine this focus with an Erasmus or Mercator exchange which must take place either during the 2nd semester of the first bloc or the 1st semester of the second bloc.

All courses for the teaching focus must, however, be taken at UCL.

REMARQUE IMPORTANTE

En vertu de l'article 76 alinéa 3 du décret du 31 mars 2004 définissant l'enseignement supérieur, favorisant son intégration à l'espace européen de l'enseignement supérieur et finançant les universités, il ne sera pas procédé à l'évaluation des stages à la session de septembre. L'étudiant est invité à tout mettre en oeuvre pour réussir les stages d'enseignement à la session de juin, sous peine de devoir recommencer son année.

OPTIONS [15.0]

Students should choose courses or option courses for 15 credits, with the agreement of the secretary of the examination board.

If some of the activities in the "option courses" category are also in the core subjects in the research focus or in an option course, the overlap may not exceed 6 credits.

The 15 credits must be chosen within the same option. Students may take an option from another master if this option is consistent with the minor taken during the bachelors programme. Certain courses given at KUL and UNamur may also be followed if these universities agree.

✂ Autres cours (maximum 5 crédits)

May be chosen from the Faculty or University programmes with the agreement of the examination board secretary. Students should check with the lecturer in charge of their chosen course(s) that they are entitled to take them. If certain courses are available in the core subjects or the research focus, there may be no more than 6 credits worth of overlap for each of these categories. No overlap of courses is permitted for either the teaching focus or the professional focus.

Course prerequisites

A document entitled en-prerequis-2016-hist2m.pdf specifies the activities (course units - CU) with one or more pre-requisite(s) within the study programme, that is the CU whose learning outcomes must have been certified and for which the credits must have been granted by the jury before the student is authorised to sign up for that activity.

These activities are identified in the study programme: their title is followed by a yellow square.

As the prerequisites are a requirement of enrolment, there are none within a year of a course.

The prerequisites are defined for the CUs for different years and therefore influence the order in which the student can enrol in the programme's CUs.

In addition, when the panel validates a student's individual programme at the beginning of the year, it ensures the consistency of the individual programme:

- It can change a prerequisite into a corequisite within a single year (to allow studies to be continued with an adequate annual load);
- It can require the student to combine enrolment in two separate CUs it considers necessary for educational purposes.

For more information, please consult regulation of studies and exams.

The programme's courses and learning outcomes

For each UCL training programme, a reference framework of learning outcomes specifies the competences expected of every graduate on completion of the programme. You can see the contribution of each teaching unit to the programme's reference framework of learning outcomes in the document "In which teaching units are the competences and learning outcomes in the programme's reference framework developed and mastered by the student?"

The document is available by clicking this link after being authenticated with UCL account.

HIST2M - Information

Admission

General and specific admission requirements for this program must be satisfied at the time of enrolling at the university..

Specific Admission Requirements

1° Students must hold a first level university degree

2° Provide proof of a sufficient level in French (B1 of the European Framework of Reference )

3° Student must have training including the following 105 credits :

⇒ 30 credits in general or specialised history courses, covering several periods;

⇒ 30 credits in introduction to the historical discipline and research techniques;

⇒ 30 credits in implementing theory;

⇒ 15 course credits in ancient, medieval and/or modern languages.

The 30 credits of the [Minor in History \[30.0\]](#) satisfy these requirements.

In the absence of sufficient training in one or several of these subjects, prerequisites are added to the masters programme (maximum 15 credits).

If the total number of prerequisites exceeds 15 credits, access to the master will be subject to the student doing a preparatory year for a Master in History [60.0], the programme of which, totaling 60 credits maximum, will be drawn up based on the student's file.

Course equivalences are submitted for approval to the chairman of the jury, the secretary of the jury and the academic faculty secretary.

4° Students wishing to pursue a Master's degree with a teaching focus must have a French Community of Belgium diploma; failing

this, they will have to pass a French language proficiency examination to demonstrate that their command of written and spoken

French is equivalent to Level C1 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (for further information, visit <https://uclouvain.be/en-204103.html>).

Règles professionnelles particulières

Teaching method

The core courses in the master 120 give courses in research techniques, the scientific communication of historical knowledge and the epistemological approach to history, as well as interactive training from files covering the different historical periods in the field 'governance and societies'.

A wide range of options courses helps the student acquire more depth in the knowledge acquired on the bachelor and begin an interdisciplinary approach.

A special place is reserved for the seminar (10 credits) requiring a lot of research in libraries and in archiving centres, as well as a lot of work in documentary criticism and preparing oral and written summaries.

The masters dissertation must be personal work based on first hand sources, where the student uses the skills acquired in his training. This work is supported by the supervisor and evaluated, at the end of the first bloc, in terms of the detection and critical presentation of the sources and work, and the methodological approach to the subject.

In the professional focus "History. Societies, economies and civilizations", the option is given to focus on case studies. The three other professional focuses include visits and internships in the world of work.

Finally, through its pedagogical options, the programme gives foreign students the chance to acquaint themselves with new research fields and methods, in close contact with the sources.

Evaluation

The evaluation methods comply with the regulations concerning studies and exams. More detailed explanation of the modalities specific to each learning unit are available on their description sheets under the heading "Learning outcomes evaluation method".

Written and oral exams aim to measure the level of acquisition and grasp of concepts, theories, basic data and know-how in the different disciplines concerned.

Exercises, seminars and internships (internal or external to UCL) are subject to continuous assessment.

At the end of the first bloc, an evaluation will assess the two preliminary stages of the dissertation (heuristic and methodological approaches to an academic subject). At the end of the level, the dissertation is marked by the supervisor and two readers.

Courses are evaluated according to current university regulations (see General Examination Regulations). Students may find further information on specific evaluation methods in the course descriptions.

To obtain a student's average, the grades awarded for each course unit are weighted by their respective credits.

Mobility and/or Internationalisation outlook

Students doing a 120-credit Master's degree may complete 30 credits at another university in Belgium or abroad and/or undertake internships in Belgium or abroad (for the "History and Archives" professional focus in particular).

Note:

Periods of study abroad for students pursuing a teaching focus must take place in the second term of the first block or the first term of the second block. All teaching focus classes must be taken at UCL, however.

Possible trainings at the end of the programme

Other accessible masters :

at the end of the master 120, each focus of the master in History can be obtained in a new program of 30 credits only.

Accessible doctoral training :

- "Ecole doctorale en Histoire, art et archéologie";
- "Ecole doctorale thématique en didactique du français, des langues, des littératures et des cultures".
